WOLF THEISS

We're able to call on local expertise in a wide range of jurisdictions, as well as expertise in other areas of commercial law when needed

Introducing the Team

The way we see it, your employees are one of your company's biggest assets. Putting the right relationships in place prevents problems arising further down the line – and protects the long-term future of your business.

So how do you go about doing it? One of the challenges is that employment law is changing fast, with different countries responding in different ways. Our job is to steer clients through those changes, identifying new opportunities and guarding against risks.

We do it by offering clear, straightforward advice, rather than pages of dense arguments for and against. We also believe in flexibility – identifying the right solutions to fit your business as it changes over time.

With teams of experts throughout the Central and Eastern and South-eastern Europe region, we are well placed to advise on projects across multiple jurisdictions, making sure your commercial goals translate effectively into the local environment. We see each client relationship as a partnership – one that starts as soon as you pick up the phone and call us.

Now for a few more.

Wolf Theiss is an international law firm, described by The European Legal 500 as "arguably the best Austrian firm in Central and Eastern Europe". We're also growing fast, with over 500 staff at the last count, at least half of whom are lawyers.

We have offices throughout Central and Eastern and South-eastern Europe. And we're experienced, with a track record stretching back 50 years.

Our numerous practice groups bring together experts from a wide range of disciplines and many geographical and cultural backgrounds. It means we're well placed to manage cross-border transactions, no matter how demanding the project.

The work we do is often groundbreaking. We operate in a fascinating part of the world, which is influenced by a variety of cultural, political and economic trends. We know this area better than anyone and thrive on the opportunities it presents.

Which brings us to the final point. At Wolf Theiss, we're always passionate about taking on the next challenge. So, whatever you have in mind, get in touch.
