Wolf Theiss provided comprehensive support to the internationally operating French developer and producer on this transaction with respect to Polish and Austrian law.

Led by Partner Christian Mikosch (Vienna), the corporate team of Wolf Theiss involved in the transaction also included Associate Daniel Kocab (Vienna), Partner Jacek Michalski (Warsaw) and Associate Joanna Wajdzik (Warsaw).

The seller was ISOROC Holding represented by the Austrian industrialist Alexander Maculan. Felix Michael Klement as Partner at the law firm Wildmoser/Koch & Partner Rechtsanwälte GmbH assumed the lead in advising the ISOROC Group. Furthermore, Max Rammerstorfer (Vienna), Vojitech Joza (Vienna) and Agnieszka Pokora (Warsaw, law firm Marciniuk & Partner) were also involved in the transaction on behalf of the seller.

“The Austrian aspect was an important and integral part of our legal consulting services due to the identity of the selling party, led by Alexander Maculan”, explains Wolf Theiss Partner Christian Mikosch.

“ISOROC Holding and Saint-Gobain had already had business contacts for years. For example, ISOROC Holding sold its stake in one of the largest Russian stone wool plants to Saint-Gobain. We experienced very harmonious Austrian-French contract negotiations”, says Felix Michael Klement of Wildmoser/Koch & Partner.

Saint-Gobain is a globally operating industrial group headquartered in Paris. In its own words, it “designs, manufactures and distributes materials and solutions which are key ingredients in the well-being of each of us and the future of all”. Saint-Gobain’s brand portfolio includes Rigips, ISOVER insulation products, Sekurit Autoglas, Saint-Gobain Glass and the building materials distributor Raab Karcher.

ISOROC Polska is a producer of eco-friendly insulation materials and operates a plant located in Nidzica (160 km north of Warsaw) with a capacity of 35,000 tons of insulating mineral wool products.
