Recent work highlights

- Representing a Big Four company in a significant number of civil proceedings following the insolvency of a major Austrian real estate development group, whose insolvency triggered broad media coverage. The insolvency administrator claims compensation from former auditors and advisors. Further, a large number of private investors is filing claims. We currently handle approximately 40 separate court cases for the client.
- Acting for several major international online-gaming providers, one of their holding companies and a leading global payment services provider in a large number of disputes brought by Austrian-based gamblers concerning the recovery of losses incurred in online gambling.
- Successfully representing a provider of railway infrastructure in state court proceedings regarding the admissibility of charges for routes used by private railway companies.
- Seizing Austrian assets (including three high value Austrian properties) of the former CEO of the German financial services company. The applications involved highly complex legal issues.
- Representing a bank consortium in the insolvency proceedings of the Austrian affiliate of Odebrecht group.
- Advising a major German delivery service provider in connection with the strained liquidity situation of the Austrian subsidiaries and preparation of the insolvency of these companies. Due to the economic situation of the Austrian subsidiaries, an extremely rapid preparation of the insolvency was required.
